Empowering the construction industry in Saudi Arabia.

Under the patronage of the HE Minster of Municipal, Rural Affairs and Housing Majid bin Abdullah Al-Hoqail

The contracting sector plays a major role in supporting the economic development emphasized by the Kingdom's Vision 2030, as it comes in second place after the oil and gas sector in attracting the workforce and increasing the volume of local and foreign investments, in addition to its leading role in building a diversified economy that achieves the aspirations of wise leadership towards sustainable development and a bright future.

Accordingly, the Saudi Contractors Authority "SCA" pays great attention to developing the contracting sector and providing various opportunities to empower the sector. SCA provides you with the International Contracting Conference, "ICC," where the conference is considered a platform for exchanging knowledge that supports business operations. The conference will be attended by +25 famous local and international speakers on the dialogue platform to discuss and deliver outputs that will help advance the agenda of the sector. ICC seeks to become a global intellectual platform to discuss the reality and future of the contracting sector, as it will address several key topics, including opportunities & challenges in the contracting sector on day one and sustainability & technology in the contracting sector on day two, on February 26-27, 2024.
